

Solar Power

Did you know Astbury can supply and install compact solar power units for existing communal services?

Conscious of the need to save energy, Astbury has invested in the skills required for our engineers to specify, install and commission various photo-voltaic systems.

Of particular interest to commercial organisations and social landlords wishing to invest in CCTV, Door entry, access control systems or powered gates/barriers (perhaps where the cost of providing mains power would prove prohibitive).

We are also able to supply and install a solar powered back-up solution to existing systems where a failure in the public electricity supply may have life threatening issues.
